Bradley Pond Farm Preserve

In 1991, Frederick and Florence Call donated a conservation easement to the Brunswick-Topsham Land Trust (BTLT), thereby ensuring their spectacular 163-acre traditional farm would remain intact, undeveloped, and accessible to the public. The Calls and BTLT worked together to create a trail system that reveals active hayfields, stone walls, and quiet woods. The trails are named after David P. Boynton, whose tireless work on this and other conservation projects was an inspiration to the entire land trust community.

The Calls have since passed away, but their legacy of continued public access to a lovely, traditional farm property will live on forever. Bradley Pond Farm continues to be used by the current owners for farming and forestry.

Bradley Pond Farm Preserve's forests, marshes, open fields, and views of Bradley Pond offer visitors a quiet rural experience not far from the busy center of Topsham. The property's diverse habitat is home to a wide variety of flora and fauna, and provides an important forested buffer for Bradley Pond – the headwaters of the Cathance River – which flows into the ecologically significant and unique Merrymeeting Bay.

Please note, this Preserve does NOT provide access to Bradley Pond or any sections of the Cathance River.

DIRECTIONS TO PROPERTY

The preserve is located at the end of Bradley Pond Road. After crossing into Topsham from Brunswick over the Frank Wood Bridge, continue north on Route 201 for 5.5 miles. Turn left on Bradley Pond Road and continue for a half mile. The road becomes dirt and curves to the left at the property entrance. There are two parking areas, both on the left of the driveway. Park only in designated parking areas.
